Big Damage Suit Is Remanded Back Here

Lewis of the United States district court in Denver. It was filed ited financial support, was among the here a few months ago and taken to the federal court on the application of atturneys for the two roads.

One question involved is whether man can work for two railroads and can recover damages from both if he is injured. The accident to Elyea happened in January, 1911. He was employed as C. & S. fireman by the master mechanic of the Santa Fe railroad—who also is said to have charge at times of the C. & S. enginemen. At the time of the accident, it is unning board of the engine. Near the ntersection of the C. & S. tracks here he engineer reversed the lever too fell in under the wheels and his right leg was cut off.

McKesson & Turner, was in Denver yesterday in behalf of Elyen, and sewred the remanding of the case to the district court. He says that both roads. are responsible in this instance, as there is a state law which eave that railreads must block the guard rails at rossings, and if one road does not do t, the other must. It is/claimed that the two railroads were negligent. Elves was a former resident of Colorado Springs, but is now living in

"I want to: encourage those already working on behalf of reform, and I want to incite to activity other who, although believers, are not workers. There are three classes of those not in favor of reform-the .ones who lack the necessary intelligence and who do not know that their wrongs could be righted: those who know that reform is possible but are indifférent to their own and their fellow citizens' welfare, quickly. Elyea was knocked off and and those who have pecuniary interests that may be affected by reform."

"No good thing secured today will prevent the passing of any future reform," is a thought that Bryan said cheers him in the consideration of political problems. Mr. Bryan held the close attention of the audience by his pithy, clearly expressed views. A voice clear and off, is Mr. Bryan's great asset, and his power of expression and the application of amusing absolutes made his address of great interest.

The crowd, which taxed the capacity of the church, was enthusiastic. Mr. Bryan had to limit, his address to catch a train at a o'clock, when he left for Denver, accompanied by Governor Shafroth, who came down yesterday morning to meet him. STRAW VOTES

· STRAW votes, post-card votes, newspaper polls, etc., in political campaigns are always interesting, even if they are not conclusive. A good many of them are now underway all over the country, and we observe that wherever they are taken in such a way as to obtain a genuine expression of public opinion Roosevelt is far in the lead

Yesterday we received a marked copy of a newspaper published in Frankfort, Kansas. We don't know anything about Frankfort or its political status, but we note that in a presidential primary held there last Saturday Roosevelt got 187 votes out of a total of 316, or more than all other candidates combined. Laft received 34 votes, and La Follette tour. Bryan lead the Democrats with 45, Clask got 15, and Wilson eight.

This is the expression of a Kansas country town, and the newspaper which records it, while declaring its own preference for Taft, admits that 'it was a representative vote, and shows the general sentiment of the people."

The Kansas City Star, the most widely circulated newspaper in the Mississippi Valley, has been making a poll of its reades, with the result that Roosevelt, to date, has received 83,750 votes out of a total of 162,978. Taft has received 9,408 votes. Here is the poll as reported by the Star.

. AS TO OPEN PARLIAMENT LETTERS

EVERY two or three months it seems necessary to print an explanation of the conditions under which The Gazette's Open Parliament column is conducted. This is easily the most popular department in the paper; not even the immortal Laura Jean with her first aid to wounded hearts, or the ever-delightful "Near to Nature," is read and enjoyed by more people daily than "Old Subscriber" and "Pro Bono Publico. And this is a pretty good test of the popularity of the Open Parliament, for we receive about a half dozen letters a day for Laura Jean, all from lovelorn men and maidens in Colorado Springs whose atfairs of the heart have gone awry.

But not all of the letters written for the Open Parliament get into print by any means-perhaps not more than half of them-simply because many contributors persist in disregarding a few necessaryrules. We have printed them often, but here they are again:

(1) Every letter intended for the Open Parliament must be accompanied with the name of the writer, not necessarily for publication but as an evidence of good faith. If the writer prefers that thename be withheld it will not be published unless the letter is obviously unfit for anonymous publication.

(2) Letters in which statements are made-reflecting on the character or standing of an individual or institution must be printed, if at all, with the full name, and preferably the street address, of the writer. There are plenty of people who would like nóthing better than to even scores with their enemies in "roasting" them in the :Open Parliament-provided they could hide behind a nom de plume. In fact, several of them try it every day. Persons who like to inculse in this sort of bushwhacking would better save their postage stamps, for such letters go in the waste basket.

(3) Brevity is important. An Open Parliament column is not the place for essays of interminable length. With a little care in condensation most contentions can he expressed in 500 words, which in print make about six or seven inches. Of course there are subjects which justify the use of more space, but a la rule 300 or 400 words. tre enough. Also, the shorter the letter the more likely it is to be generally read.

(4) Finally, there is a class of letters which may conform to all of the above rules but which are not printed because they are merely foolish and unimportant. We cannot devote space to aimless contributions which start nowhere in particular and end at the same place without touching any point of public interest or expressing any definite idea. Neither do we think that the public cares especially to hear almost daily from the same contributor.

All of which may explain to some of our recent contributors just why their letters have not been printed. One of their mildly criticises a local public official for the manner in which he performs his duty-but forgets to sign his name. Another takes issue with "Snowbound," but he, too, fails to identity himself except as "A Subscriber."

The Open Parliament is the popular medium for the exchange of opinions on subjects of current interest, and we hope that our readers will continue to use it freely. But it will be more satisfactory to them and to us it they heed this explanation

It is interesting to note that current numbers of three aidely circulated magazines contain pictures and descriptive matter concerning the scenic attractions of the Pikes Peak region , the Tourist Magazine, published in New York, devotes seven pages to excellent reproductions of Senes along the Crystal Park auto road, and this attraction is also described and pictured in the February numbes of Popular Mechanges, and in a recent issue of Motor, the leading automobile magazine. These pictures and articles were not printed as paid advertising but solely because of their mterest to the reader, and their publicity value is all the greater for this reason. Scores of scenes in the Pikes Peak region have been photographed which are quite as attractive as any of the Alpine views so trequently reproduced in the magazines. and their publication in this manner is of no little advertising value.

The first woman moved again, and again the other woman dedged at just the same instable.

Thinking that this had gone on long enough, my friend stood still and said with great dignity, "Madame, if you will stand on one side or the other, I will endeavor to pass you" At this moment, the Arnold Bennett has a funcioning comp these lines, in which he quaintly asks, "Has it ever struck you that there is a mysterided individual going around, waiking the streets, skiling it houses for tea, chatting, laughing, groundling, arguing, and that all your friends know him and have long since added him up and come to a definite conclusion about him without saying most than a plants. cautions word to you; and that that person is you?

THE BUNDAY ORD NANCE. To the Editor of Tax Gazette

"We cannot stand the strain of working seven days in a week, 30 days in a month and 36$ days in a year. We want one day in seven free from the drudgers of our usual employments, and we think sine were seized, but one of them we ought to have it. Can't you close up some of these stores on Sunday, so the vierks can get a day

This, in substance, was the sistement made to the council by a representative of a class of emploves, many of whom have to work every day in the tear. This statement and request led to the introduction of the ordinance now lending before the council in relation to Sunday

Each councilman knew the statement was true No man or woman can stant the strain or working at a single employment 365 days a year. The request that certain places of business be combelled to close one day in the week so that the employes might have a day off from their ordinary work appeared right and ressonable

The discussion which has followed the publication of this proposed Sunday ordinance has confirmed my belief that the purross of the council in Mr. Editor passing it was right, but that the ordinance does not accomplish the purpose desired and that it should not pass in its present form

In drafting the Sunday ordinance I did not give expression to my own ideas on the subject, but tried, as best I could, to adopt the prevailing legislation on Sunday observance to the peculiar conditions of the legality. The ordinance is unhappily worded, because the criticisms of its provisions show that many maye read into it a meaning wholly foreign to what it was intended to mean, so I am out of all sympathy with the ordinance is drifted, but more fully than ever in sympathy with its spirit and pur-

My thinking on the purpose of this ordinance nas developed what appears to me to be a rian by which that purpose can be attained. It is the purjose of this communication to present this plan to on withat it may be car fully examined, criticized. torn to pleces if found improducable or indursed if ours worths of adoption Here is the exact problem while I am trying to employee in this city are compelled to work seven days in the week for their employer. In this class of continuous workers are found most of those engaged in the following occupations. Street carmotormen and conductors, telephone girls, hotel emtrusty cyclic I moved the grass, and pushed a ployes livery stable employes automobile garage employes, chauffeurs, baking and confectionery emploves, restaurant employes, cooks and domestics in private tamilies, drug clerks, eigar store cierks, bots makes me tired I train with all these hungry in bootblacking stands relegraph operators and meschaps who deed and die the whole year tound sengers, policemen firemen, milkmen coal haulers, who will and wait bet little enups and who at shovelers of coal for all power, heat and light plants With them I make the operated every day in the week, elevator boys many welkin throb with them resort to tawdry tricks; railroad employes chambermaids in boarding and rooming houses, and all employes in mills, shops and mines which operate continuously. ods that vol deem correct, than wield a pitchfork |

Here is a vast army of employes who are comrelied to work from eight to twelve hours a day every day in the week. Can we not find some was by which they can be given one day off in seven? It is evident that they cannot all observe the same day of rest without seriously interfering with the good order, comfort and welfare of the community. Modern conditions are such as to make it necessary that a large number of persons shall be at work on each day of the week, hence no day in the week-can be observed by employes at the same time, and any law which requires all persons to observe a common day of rest must of necessity prove ineffectual. But it is equally evident tast while no one day can be observed by all, it will make it more convenient and easier to give each empleve a day of rest if a common day is set apart for rest from the general and ordinary business of the week. At least one-balf of those employed can be given a day of rest if a common day is observed on which all ordinary business is suspended, and these employes can be given a day of rest on such a day without interfering with business or the general welfare of the community. Therefore, a common day should be set apart for general observance Then provision should be made whereby those who are compelled to mark on this common rest day, should be given some ofner day in the week in which they may rest from their usual employ-

Tersely expressed, my idea is this. Every emplayer of labor should give each of his employes a day off on the common rest day if the nature of his business will permit, but if his business is such that it cannot be closed on any one day so that all his employes may have a day off at the same time, he should adjust his hunjages so as to give each employe some one day off during the week, so that each employe will have one day of rest in seven. If the employer will not voluntarily arreage his business so as to give each employe one day off in seven, I believe that the welfare of society makes it necessary that he he by law compelled to do so. The efficiency of the employs will be increased by having one day off in seven, and the larger and better service which such employe will render will more than offset any additional expense occasioned the employer in providing for such day of rest.

Many wage carpers feel that they cannot afford to lose one day in seven because their percentities are so great that they need every pendy they can sars. I know men who work at hard manual 1366 days in a year. They say they could not lay off a day if they had a chance, because they could not afford to lose the pay of a single day. They may they can scarcely keep the welf from the door by working every day in the year. I think that such nien should not lose anything by having one day of rest in seven. Their employers gut the bonefit of the increased efficiency smalling from rest day, and no deduction should to made in wages of the employe for the day off.

I am submitting to you herewith an outline of an ordinance which seeks to solve the problem of providing a day of rest for all employee to this city. Consider it, and take such action on it as you deem C. L. M'KERRON, City Attorney

ZETTE--60c A MONTH

FOR ALL MEN AND WOMEN

I will give you free a sample of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pell-ts, that have brought health and happiness to thousands also a book on any chronic disease you need.

The story of my free offer to you is quickly told. During my many years of practice I have used numerous combinations of curative medicions for liver ills. I have kept records of results in case after case, so that my staff of physicians and surgeons, at the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., are able to diagnose and treat cases at a distance with uniform good results. I am going to send you free a sample package of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, which will relieve biliousness and ill health due to a disordered liver. Write at once for a sample or a book.

But for the pun -ment relief of blood disorders and impurities. I can recommend my "Gold 1 4 M I dieal Discovery" - a blood medicine without alcohol.---R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

Nature's Way Is The Best.

Baried darp in our A prican mourt we find bland-out, que -'e root, undrake and st.m. runt, filds i "rat, Oragon grape root "ad abserybark. Of the Dr. R V. Piero, med a pure glyceric extract which has been favorably k-time for over for years. He Aird at "GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY."

This "Discovery" purch the blood we to a up the storage and the entire system in Nature's own way. It's just the tresue builder and tonic you require.

Dr. Pierce says: - "Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomech, attended by sour risings, heartburn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on-coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken." Sold by all principal dealers in medicines.

To lind out more about the above mentioned diseases and all about the body in health and disease, get the Common Sense Medical Adviser the People's Schoolmaster in Medicine -revised and up-to-date book of 1000 pages which treats of diseased conditions and the practical, successful treatment thereof. Strength in the coppers probably was induced by announcement of another advance in the price of metal, being stimulated in part by demand from industrial companies at home and For the greater part of the day the industrial issues moved listlessly, except in the case of Republic Iron and Steel, common and preferred, which were weak. The present price of the preferred stock is accepted as an indi-cation that the dividend is to be cut, if not altogether suspended United States Steel was weak in the

London's operations here included purchases of the copper stocks and steel, while the weekly statement of the Hank of England was hardly notable, save for the increase of public deposits of almost $20,000,000

Forecasts suggest a further loss of cash by our banks, resulting from the drain to the subtreasury and the in-terior. At most, however, the loss hardly will have an appreciable effect.

CHICAGO Feb 23 -- Serious commade prices today finish with a bulge, Closing figures were 操在标: to 编译集: higher. Corn showed a net gain of higher to Late, and oats, help to Late. In provisions the outcome varied from the same as Wednesday

Strength in wheat developed only after a day of uncertainty. Increased world shipments had a bearish effect and there was further influence of a similar kind in the fact that primary receipts here were more than double a year ago: The buils also were discouraged by the ampleness of moisture throughout the wheat belt.

At the same time coarse grains displayed an upward tendency and there was news from Liverpool that the Argentine forwardings were not up to what had been predicted. May fluctuated from 99%c to $100% $5, with ing of corn. Local speculators were the most aggressive in this respect. May ranged between 67%c and 68%c, closing firm. 148%c, net higher at 68%c.
